

Hands on Big 5

At Hands on Big 5, volunteers learn about conservation and put it into action by assisting the team with daily activities. Make a real difference, expand your skills and have the experience of a lifetime!

Project summary:

You will be involved in leopard research, habitat restoration, elephant and lion monitoring elephants and lions, counting wildlife, and much more immerse yourself.

This conservation project is the ultimate experience where you will have the opportunity to actively participate in conservation and explore South Africa's amazing coastline.

The reserve (near Port Elizabeth) is an exciting conservation area that plays a major role in the reintroduction of numerous species and conservation efforts. While being involved in all aspects of the reserve, you will have the experience of a lifetime.

A dedicated coordinator will make an effort to ensure you have a wonderful experience and end up knowing more about what conservation is really about. So if you've ever wondered what conservation in a reserve in Africa is all about, this is the project for you.

Requirements:

- Minimum age: 18 years
- No special skills or previous experience are required. All that is required of you is to assist with the tasks to the best of your ability.
- Some determination on your part will be required. Just give it your best shot!
- Language skills: English (min. B1)
- Minimum duration: 2 weeks

Included:

- 3 meals daily
- Accommodation
- Laundry service
- City excursion 1x/week

more information